Happy Valentine's Day

Saint Valentine's Day, commonly shortened to Valentine's Day, is an annual commemoration held on February 14th celebrating love and affection between intimate companions. The day is named after one or more early Christian martyrs named Saint Valentine, and was established by Pope Gelasius in 496 AD. It was deleted from the General Roman Calendar of saints in 1969 by Pope Paul VI. It is traditionally a day on which lovers express their love for each other by presenting flowers, offering confectionery, and sending greeting cards (known as "valentines"). The day first became associated with romantic love in the circle of Geoffrey Chaucer in the High Middle Ages, when the tradition of courtly love flourished. Modern Valentine's Day symbols include the heart-shaped outline, doves, and the figure of the winged Cupid. Since the 19th century, handwritten valentines have given way to mass-produced greeting cards.

If You Were A Landscape by: Edward A. Bordi

You would have wide open prairies (your understanding) with lush green grass and patches of Wild Flowers everywhere (your easy nature and your beauty).
Although you sit under partly sunny skies, (your wonderful joy that's shaded by hardship), your summit allows a view of the horizon that is so clear and beautiful, (your optimism and hope endure), and...
On it you can almost see forever (your dreams coming true).
There is a strong tree (your husband) by a King-sized river (our source of strength and nourishment), that sustains you and your gardens (your children so beautiful and tender).
So wonderful and inviting that all who dwell there, rejoice! (Your family loves to be with you)
